Overview

- Default password is either “1” or the current date in the format of MMDDYYYY
- As illustrated below, Bluefin’s PAX terminals connect to our PayConex payment gateway on the backend. Within PayConex, you can access processing history, reports, and the ability to reissue or refund transactions.
- Bluefin’s PAX terminals utilize PCI-validated Point to Point Encryption (P2PE), the highest standard of data security. PCI-validated P2PE prevents clear-text cardholder data from being present in a merchant or enterprise’s system or network where it could be accessible in the event of a data breach.
- “Batching” in the terminal consists of printing a report and clearing the terminal but does not affect actual settlement. Actual batching is done automatically in PayConex on the backend. If you would like to adjust your actual backend batch time to optimize settlement timing or to assist you with reconciling your deposits, please contact Bluefin. For PayConex manual, FAQs, support help and more, visit: www.bluefin.com/merchant-support

This means that when you use store and forward you have no way of knowing if a card is going to be approved or not. Upon batching out, if any transactions are declined, a decline receipt will print as well as a loss report showing the count and dollar amount of transactions lost while processing in offline mode.*
